- Network on the phone, microsoft meetings and account manage existing sponsors
- Handle objections and negotiate and close deals with new and existing sponsors
- Write proposals and persuasive invitations
- On-site event management at in-person– assisting clients in the exhibition area, collecting feedback, and supporting the operations manager in all aspects of the event (international travel is required)
- Virtual platform sponsorship management for digital events when applicable
- Research and obtain new contacts both from lead sourcing and contact with clients.
- Manage own customer database, set up diary entries for return calls and report on performance and targets on a weekly basis

We are looking for someone with:

- Previous 2 years experience in a B2B sales role
- Excellent communication and negotiation skills
- Confidence and an autonomous approach to their work
- A willingness to learn and contribute to the success of a team

Benefits of this role: You will receive a basic salary from £22,000-25,000 PA + commission (£10,000+ expected for year 1). To the right candidate we provide excellent remuneration, training, benefits and long-term career plan.

Location: Our offices are located on the Botley Road, with shops/restaurants within walking distance and easy access into Oxford City Centre.

Company: For over 10 years, Oxford Global Conferences has produced cutting edge events and congresses for the Life Sciences Industry, annually bringing together thousands of industry leaders and solution providers at a senior level, creating the opportunity to partner, network and knowledge share.

What our staff say:

"I have been working at Oxford Global for the last 10 years. I have had the opportunity to learn everything about running life science events; from a sales and revenue generation perspective as well as from marketing and operations standpoint. What I like the most about working at Oxford Global is that no project/event campaign is the same, providing you with new experiences every time." – Peter, Portfolio Director
